What are Guided Academic Pathways?

Resources and Examples

Guided Academic Pathways Defined

Designated programs should be structured around clear and detailed student academic pathways from secondary to post-secondary education with regard to coursework, sequencing, and experiences beyond the classroom. Prior to students choosing a pathway, programs should offer students substantive exposure to career opportunities, allowing them to make an informed decision about which pathway to pursue. Within these pathways, students should be expected to complete at least twelve college credits that are transferable and count towards an associate or bachelor's degree pathways. Students should also be exposed to the authentic experience and academic rigor of postsecondary education. This would require validating that courses are as rigorous as college level courses offered on campuses. Further, programs should prioritize allowing students to take at least one or more courses on college and university campuses where possible, and otherwise offer experiences intended to acculturate students to the postsecondary experience.

From Designation Criteria

Consideration for applicants - How do you integrate specific pathways with MassCore/MassTransfer?

Guided Academic Pathways Defined

The Early College Program Designation Application Companion takes the designation criteria and goes further to describe:

- Characteristics of your planned pathways;
- Characteristics of your planned coursework; and
- Considerations as you plan

IMPORTANT TO NOTE:

- While an academic pathway does not have to be specifically related to a field of study or career, it is often helpful to have meta-majors associated with them.
- It is recommended that Early College pathways not be built around specific technical programs, but rather focus more on the obtainment of general education requirements which could serve as the foundation for multiple degrees.

1. Academic Plans

Part A Application states:	Companion Document recommends:
1A. Please outline your academic plan for Early College participants. Provide the name of any Early College pathways being offered, indicate program entry points, and how MyCAP will support student planning.	No later than 10th grade, students should formally enroll in cohorted program and begin structured preparatory and/or credit-bearing coursework
	Program identifies any high school credits that academically prepare students or serve as prerequisites to on-ramp to college coursework.
	Early College students will participate in MyCAP (My Career and Academic Plan) via an online tool used for college and career counseling (e.g., Naviance or MEFA Your Plan for the Future) that is recognized by the Department of Elementary and Secondary Education.
	Students will be guided through the MyCAP process. We recommend mapping out MyCAP plans by month/year with specific activities, etc. (Needed for Part B)

3. Course Delivery

Provide an initial description of where and how courses will be delivered to students by grade level. Indicate who (college approved high school faculty, college faculty, or a combination) will be teaching each course.

Considerations from Companion Document:

- The minimum of twelve required college credits should take place during the secondary school day.
- If a program relies on hybrid delivery of college credits, students should not be required to miss any high school instructional time in order to complete requirements of college credits.
- Programs should also think carefully about how they will address digital equity for online courses.
